VISUAL AID PROGRAM HELD IN
NEW LENOX LUTH. CHURCH WAS MOST INTERESTING

"The Visual Aids Program at Trinity Lutheran church, New Lenox, Friday evening, February 15th, was most interesting.

Pastor Wm. Lieske, in his usual way held the interest of the entire audience, both with his slides and lecture. His explanation of the use of Visual Aids in all organizations and departments of church and school suggested to the various groups present a project worth their consideration for the local church.

Those who did not avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing and seeing this program missed one of the most important and educational entertainments here in some time.

Why We Are Opposed

Our good friend, Rev. Paul Saunders pastor of the Marley Community Church, in his letter to the editor last week, voiced his misgivings and objection to our recent articles opposing the Murray, Wagner, Dingell bill.

We grant that the American people are the most intelligent people on the face of the earth and fully capable of thinking things thru. Yet, on the other hand these same people are very indifferent and have lapsed into a state of lethargy and feel that the government should just see everything thru and take for granted any thing that the government hands them in a paternalistic sense. When a people lean solely on government, they lose their individuality and initiative.

Rugged individualism, initiative and self reliance made America great. True democracy solves its own problems in its own way. We must remember that in the present day we have a very few statesmen. The majority of our representatives and leaders have degenerated into selfish, grafting scheming politicians who are more interested in foreignisms and interests than they are in our own. They often attempt to pass onto the people legislation that is not for their best interests. When the press calls attention to some of this detrimental legislation in clarion calls the press is accused of spreading prejudice and hysteria.

Referring to the Murray, Wagner, Dingell bill relative to socialized medicine, we feel that this measure would play right into the hands of crooked politicians and make a political football of the issue. This bill smacks so strong of regimentation that it is almost parallel to communism.

Recently Dr. George Woodruff, prominent Will County physician addressed a meeting of professional and business women in Joliet on socialized medicine and pointed out that under this set up you can not call in the physician of your choice, but you must accept what ever doctor the state delegates to treat you. You have no voice in the matter. The concept is strictly totalitarian.

The mechanisms, if adopted and placed in operation, would establish a core of collectivist control under which Freedom of Enterprise in any form could not long survive. An unusual crisis of great peril is at hand.

Arguments for a state controlled medical system lose their force in the light of the following editorial from the Christian Science Monitor:

"President Truman's citation of draft rejections as a compelling reason for the introduction of compulsory sickness insurance in the United States loses its plausibility on comparison with draft rejections in Britain where this insurance prevails.

"In his message recommending government medical care insurance, the President said, 'The number of those rejected for military service was about 30 per cent of all those examined.'"

"But in Great Britain, which has had compulsory sickness insurance since 1911, the draft rejections were far higher. How they ran is indicated in the published Annual Reports on the British Army. Rejections for the 10 years ending with 1936 are available in the Annual Report for that year.

"During all the 10 years, 677,515 were served with notice papers and 400,775 were rejected, or 59 percent.

"Even allowing generously for the effects of a lower standard of living, if Britain after 25 years of sickness insurance, had a rejection rate practically twice that of America, there seems to be little argument in the draft rejections for socialized medicine."

The proposed socialized medicine proposition is a vicious one. It is estimated that 300,000 bureaucrats would be necessary to administer the system. It would establish machinery for the political distribution of medical care.

Every person, worker, merchant, doctor, lawyer, business man who desires to keep the deadening hand of politics out of the sick room should protest. All of those really interested in preserving the American Way of Life should register definite and vigorous opposition with their Congressmen and Senators.

Write to them, write or telegraph your protest today.

Frankfort Lions
To Seek Industry
To Locate There

The Frankfort Lions Club enjoyed a very fine double feature program and a delicious chicken dinner in connection with their monthly meeting in the Frankfort Village hall.

Thru the courtesy of L. E. Martin of the Cities Service Co., the Lions program chairman, Wm. Semmler, was enabled to procure a very fine technicolor film from the United States Steel Corporation entitled "Steel-Man's Servant."

This film showed the various steps required from the mining of the iron ore to the finished product. It portrayed the use to which steel is put to a stream lined train. The film was screened by the projector of the St. Peter's Evangelical church of Frankfort operated by Rev. Erich Bizer.

The second portion of the program was an impressive and vital message by George Bartling of the Public Service Co., on the opportunities offered by Northern Illinois. He gave a graphic outline on the plan the Public Service has inaugurated to help bring enterprises to the smaller communities by way of compiling statistics or each community showing just what each particular section has to offer which might be an inducement to have some industry locate there.

The Lions Club appointed a committee consisting of Albert Krusemark, Jr., H. J. Lambrecht, Burton Breidert, Wm. Kampe and John Lubring to prepare data showing what Frankfort has to offer to interest some industry to locate here. This data will be filed with the Public Service Co.

The Lions discussed the forthcoming Charter Night program to be held Tuesday, March 19 in the parlors of the St. Peter's Evangelical church.

The Lions are also considering sponsoring a minstrel and amateur show in the near future.

Civic Group
Opposes Loan
To Great Britain

The Mokena Civic Association had a most interesting meeting at the Hatch hall Wednesday evening. They enjoyed a very fine address by J. E. Barton, Orland Park real estate man regarding the zoning and local planning being done in Cook County and gave some very good pointers which the Civic Association will put to good use here. Mr. Barton's talk was impressive and to the point.

Mr. Barton was invited by Editor Wm. Semmler to address the Association. Unfortunately due to a business appointment in Chicago for Wednesday night the editor was unable to attend the Civic Association meeting.

A movement is on foot it was brought out at this meeting to zone all of Will County and that an ordinance has already been drawn to that effect. Soon as this ordinance is ratified by the county board of supervisors the Mokena Civic Association will back up this measure 100 percent.

The Civic Association also went on record as being opposed to the granting of a Santa Claus gift of $3,750,000, 000 to England and went on record as being dead set against this "loan." It is understood that a petition is being drawn and will be circulated in the very near future for signatures, petitioning our representatives in Congress to vote against this proposed "loan."

A number of property owners have made complaint to the Civic Association that they contributed $20 toward the assessment for construction of the storm water tile sewer thru the Yunker field, but that their tile has not been hooked into the main tile. The matter was referred back to the village board.

The Civic Association also discussed the holding of the 1946 Homecoming and set the dates for the event for August 23, 24 and 25.

AMERICA'S OIL TWINS

WASHINGTON. — Many senators believe that the confirmation row over charming Ed Pauley as under secretary of the navy has taken on new significance now that Sec. Harold Ickes has offered Ralph Davies the job of under secretary of the interior.

It happens that Davies and Ed Pauley are bosom friends. Both are oil men. Both have followed the policy of "scratch-my-back-I'll-scratch-yours." This is important.

Recently, Secretary Ickes, who has a crusading record for guarding the nation's resources, recommended to President Truman that naval oil reserves be transferred from the navy to the interior department. It was just such a transfer by Albert K. Fall in the Harding administration that resulted in the teapot dome oil scandal.

No motive is attributed to the Ickes proposal except that of safeguarding oil. In fact, some people consider it significant that his proposal happened to coincide, by luck or otherwise, with the nomination of Oil Man Pauley to be under secretary of the navy.

But what senators consider important is that, with Pauley's friend Ralph Davies offered the job of under secretary of the interior, the navy's oil lands, no matter where they are located—in interior or navy—will be partially under Pauley or a friend of his.

MEXICAN OIL DEAL

Relationship between Davies and Pauley has been extremely close. Davies was executive vice president of Standard Oil of California. Pauley sold him his own independent oil company. Later Pauley brought Davies to Washington, introduced him to Ickes, following which Davies became Ickes' deputy oil administrator. He did a good job.

However, state department officials say he continued to look out for Ed Pauley.

When Pauley was trying to lobby his high-octane Mexican gasoline plant through the government, it had to pass the hurdle of Secretary Ickes' petroleum administration. Davies okayed it—not only okayed it, but pushed it vigorously. At first Ickes also gave it his blessing. The state department, however, was vigorously opposed.

Showdown came in a secret session between Ickes, Davies, a Davies aid, and the Assistant Secretary of State Dean Acheson. The full story of this session was never really told at the senate hearing. Acheson opened by giving Ickes a very careful diagnosis of why the Mexican high-octane gasoline plant should not be built by Pauley. He took up point after point, his main argument being that the Mexican government would have to pay such a high price to Pauley that it would sour U. S.-Mexican relations.

After Acheson had finished, Ickes turned to Pauley's friend, Ralph Davies, and asked:

"Why didn't you tell me these things?"

"I didn't know them either," replied the red-faced Davies. Then, turning to his aid, he alibied: "Why didn't you tell me these things?"

Ickes immediately reversed himself, threw his weight against Pauley. That is the real inside of how the Pauley octane plant for Mexico was stopped. Davies, of course, is an able, intelligent operator, too intelligent not to have known the main points of the Pauley plan. Pauley is equally able. He would be a good executive almost anywhere. But some senators want to think twice before putting these oil twins near the head of two departments controlling the oil reserves of the nation.

PRESIDENTIAL HUMOR

President Truman has been taking recent criticism in excellent humor. The other day he was talking with a group of friends and said:

"Apparently, no matter what I do I'm always in the middle. I say something about Palestine, and the Jews and the Arabs holler. Labor and capital get in a fight, and I am in the middle. The Russians and the British have an argument, and I am in the middle."

Suddenly the President paused, walked over to the door of his office, which connects with that of his secretary, Matthew Connelly, and called out:

"Hey, Matt, where can I buy a copy of Dale Carnegie's 'How to Win Friends and Influence People'?"

CAPITAL CHAFF

Assistant Sec. of State Spruille Braden is being muzzled by the cautious pink-tea diplomats regarding some sensational documents seized in Germany showing how certain Latin-American diplomats aided the Nazis during the war. . . . Forty-five small steel companies have now increased steel wages, thus sending more than 50,000 steel workers back to work. . . . Southern senators seem to like the filibuster method. Last week Senator Bilbo served notice he intends to use it against the British loan.

WHAT MAKES A PEOPLE GREAT—RELIGION IN THE HOME

LESSON TEXT: Deuteronomy 6:4-12.
MEMORY SELECTION: Every day will I bless thee; and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.—Psalm 145:2.

Home, church, school and the state—these are the four institutions which determine the greatness of a people—and the most influential of all is the home.

What a child becomes under the nurture of the home will determine his interest in the church, his attitude toward school, and eventually his value as a citizen of the nation. How tragic then that we are giving so little attention to our American homes!

The religious life of the home is the most important element of its activity, for it is the determining factor in the life of the child. It is in the home that the child's whole existence centers and from which he receives the repeated impressions, day by day, which determine character and destiny. It is in the home that the parent has the opportunity to demonstrate the reality of the faith professed in the church, and to show the child that Christianity really counts in the ordinary experiences of life.

Three things appear in our lesson as characterizing the religion of the home.

I. Worship (vv. 4, 5).

Twice a day the orthodox Jew repeats the words of these verses: namely, at the time of prayer, morning and night. They remind him of his personal relationship to God, and they recall one of God's primary reasons for calling Israel to be his people. They were to be a national witness to the one true God in the midst of the almost universal worship of many gods. They were to stand for monotheism in the midst of polytheism.

So important is the complete devotion of man—and that brings in the whole family—to God that when Jesus was asked what was the greatest of all commandments (see Mark 12:28-31), he named this passage together with Leviticus 19:18. Nothing should take precedence over the true worship of God in our hearts, and in the hearts of all those we hold dear in our households. The Eternal One, the Source of Life, the All-Powerful One, he is "our God" (v. 4) and he looks to us for complete and constant devotion to him. Let us give it!

II. Instruction (vv. 6-9).

It was not enough that these words should be repeated in some regular or formal worship, but they were to be taught to the children in the home with all faithfulness and diligence—and by the parents.

We are far too eager to delegate the teaching of our children to others. In religious matters it is the church and the Sunday school which are responsible. Many parents do not even take their boys and girls to the house of God. They just send them. Mark it well, such parents are delinquent in their duties to God and to their families.

But our vital point is this—it is the business of the home to teach religion, to do it regularly, and to make it a normal and natural part of daily life.

This is a matter of great significance. The faith which we profess in the church must be effectively brought into the home. It is not enough to carry a Bible on Sunday. It should be in use in the home throughout the week; not only in family worship, but in the incidentals of daily life.

The family altar has gradually disappeared, and it is regrettable that it has, for the testimony of generations indicates that in family worship some of the most useful men and women of all ages have received the direction of life which made them great for God.

III. Remembrance (vv. 10-12).

Israel had a history full of the magnificent mercies of God. In the day when, by his help and blessing they were to be established in their land, they were to recall his blessings and recognize his goodness.

There are few, if any, more powerful incentives to faith and courageous living than the remembrance of past blessings. To recall how God made it possible for ordinary men and women to, by faith, subdue kingdoms, quench the fires of persecution, turn back the armies of aliens, to become strong in the midst of weakness (read Heb. 11) is to make one ready for the battles of life.

Every family has its dark and trying days, its experiences which rock one back on his heels in astonishment and fear—and in the Christian family God has always been the answer—the solution to every problem, the provider for every need. Keep such memories fresh in the thinking of boys and girls and they will be ready for the storms of life.

Help them to a great faith in a great Saviour and you have given them something more precious than all the riches of all the earth.

Birds, Mammals, Reptiles, Fish Live in Death Valley

While many people still believe that virtually no life exists in Death Valley because it is the hottest and most arid region in the United States, this desert is the permanent habitat of more than 15 species of birds, 40 species of mammals, 44 kinds of reptiles, 12 kinds of amphibians, 13 species of fishes and 545 varieties of flower plants and ferns.

AN INNER SANCTUM MYSTERY
STARRING ARAB AND ANDY BLAKE WHO FEATURES

CHAPTER XIX

I knelt beside Joey for a moment, then straightened. He had been dead when he hit the floor. Renee was still waiting by the desk. The fist doubled against her side seemed darker. Her body swung lightly up into my arms. I carried her out into the corridor. We were lucky. The smoke wasn't suffocating, and the flames had started on the top floor and hadn't gnawed their way down yet. I started downstairs.

"Bob," she said suddenly.

"Sorry. This is just Andy."

Her eyes opened. "Bob used to carry me like this."

"Did he?"

"He used to say I ought to try out for the ninety-pound team."

"You could still make it."

"I mustn't talk about myself," she whispered. "You still have work to do. Did you understand that he went into the powerhouse? He took the black-light set with him. He can attach it and signal through one of those slots near the roof. Don't let him tell the men on the U-boat about the convoys."

"We'll take care of him."

"The door will be open, Andy. He expected Joey and me to follow him."

"I'll make sure he doesn't get lonely."

I picked my way through a jumble of furniture on the first floor, kicked the back door open. The guard, the man who had kidnapped Paula Thompson, was still huddled beside the steps. But he was off the books as completely as Joey. His head lolled at a queer angle. Apparently the fat man didn't like to leave unsolved problems lying around; the guard might have talked, later. I carried Renee well back from the house and placed her gently on the sand.

Her eyes were feverish, and she gasped, "I used to be afraid. Afraid of dying. Afraid for my people in Brittany. Afraid that the Germans could not be beaten. Now I am not afraid. It is worth dying to beat the Germans. Tonight I stood at the window and when the guns fired the third time I found that I was no longer afraid."

I said gruffly, "You always did have what it takes."

"I—I'm sorry you saw how I acted with . . . with—" she nodded toward the powerhouse—"with him. It wasn't really me."

"I know it wasn't."

"Will Bob understand?"

Feet scuffed in the sand and Arab ran up to us. She dropped to her knees, spilling an armful of loot. "How is she?" she gasped. "I grabbed a tablecloth. You'll have to rip it into bandages, Andy. My fingers—"

Renee pressed the stained fist harder into her side. "Let me alone," she said sharply. "The U-boat. You must warn the ships about it. You must go after that man in the powerhouse."

Arab bent and kissed her. "I brought Joey's flashlight," she said. "And I brought that international code book you were using. I can work the flashlight with my thumb and warn the destroyer. Andy will do the rest."

Renee smiled. Her head drooped onto the sand. Her lips moved. I leaned close. She was crooning an elfin melody. For a moment I could see Renee and her big Dartmouth kid hanging over their balcony, watching moonlight on the Seine and humming a quaint little college tune. I don't think there could have been any homesickness in the way Bob had sung it, because there wasn't any now. She whispered it softly: Dartmouth will shine tonight, Dartmouth will shine . . . Dartmouth will shine tonight, Dartmouth will shine . . . When the sun goes down and the moon comes up . . . Dartmouth . . . will . . . shine . . .

It was almost gay, almost a challenge. The elfin whisper faded. She lay there quietly, smiling up at the Dartmouth moon. From the look on her face, Bob must have been waiting.

I got up stiffly.

"Take the shotgun," Arab said. "I can't handle a shotgun. Let 'em know about the sub."

She pushed something into my hand. "Take this, then. Please take it, Andy."

It was the hand grenade from the fat man's arsenal. I stuffed it inside my undershirt, remembering my trouble earlier in trying to untangle a gun from my pocket. I walked across white sand to the powerhouse. I thought about Renee, and the building blurred and I had to gulp knots out of my throat. The door was slightly ajar. I kicked it open and went in.

The fat man straightened slowly. He had been crouching on a narrow platform, adjusting the blacklight set to bear out through a seaward loophole. Light from a single electric bulb flashed on his glasses. The room was filled with the shudder and whine of the dynamo, and at first I could not hear what he was saying.

Finally I caught a sentence. He had said, "This time we will not be interrupted."

I moved carefully toward the platform. There were steps leading up to it but this time I wasn't going to hand him any presents by making a rush. The platform wasn't wide. I could stay on the floor and yank him down. When he saw I wasn't charging he started down the steps. His round polished head hunched between his shoulders. The long fat arms swung out, fingers stroking the air ahead of him. He was three steps up when I reached the bottom his breath whistling above the dynamo. He jerked and tore at a pocket. For a second I goggled up stupidly at him. He was yanking out his gun. His hand wavered up, faltered, rose again. The slide of the automatic had a greasy blue shine.

I ripped open my undershirt and clamped my fingers around the waffle pattern of the hand grenade. It felt good. It would raise hell in this concrete room. I wouldn't have picked a room like this for my first lesson in using a hand grenade, but the selection was limited. He had the gun up now. It steadied on me. I cocked my arm and thought: this is for Dartmouth. And I burned it down the groove at him.

Flame slashed at me. A blast of noise seemed to stave in my eardrums like old barrels. I closed my eyes and let things go dark . . .

When I opened them again, ages later, I heard myself mumbling, "I got the guy I got the guy I got the guy I—"

Someone tugged at my arm, argued with me.

For some reason I was walking. I complained, "Why don't you let a guy stay in bed after he's blown to bits? This is a hell of an army walking a guy around and around . . ."

"Andy! Oh, Andy, please."

The fog swirled around in my head and smoked quietly away. Arab was clinging to my arm, laughing and crying. We were walking through sand. The fragment of moon I had seen ages ago was still skimming through the night sky.

I growled, "Where's the hospital? What am I doing here? That grenade tore me to bits."

"Oh, Andy," she choked, "it didn't go off! You aren't really wounded. Just a bitten arm and a lot of bruises and—"

"Just that, huh? And why didn't the grenade go off? One of your lousy defective Ordnance grenades. I'll get off a military letter with nineteen indorsements and see about these defective grenades."

She nuzzled my arm and quivered with an assortment of laughs and sniffles. "They don't ever go off unless you pull the pin," she moaned. "You didn't pull the pin!"

"They ought to print directions on the things. How would I know you had to pull a pin? What happened to the fat man?"

She shuddered slightly.

"Well?"

"Andy, you hit him with it."

"Did I hit him hard?"

"If you can always throw grenades as hard and straight as that, we'll have some special ones made up for you, without pins."

"Yeah, but I saw a flash and there was an awful bang."

"A forty-five makes an awful racket in a closed room."

"He missed me, huh?"

"Yes, darling. And I've been walking you up and down for five minutes to wake you up."

Arab took a deep breath and clung to me. Her lips felt cool and soothing. "Andy," she whispered, "I won't ever try to stir things up again. From now on I'll be a mouse."

I scrubbed a hand over my aching face, peered at the flaming house and distant depth charges. "If you're going to be a mouse," I said solemnly, "God help the cats."

(THE END)

of the stairs. Suddenly he whirled, dropped to his hands. A foot lashed at my throat. I was waiting for it. I jerked back my head, caught the foot with my left hand and flipped it. The fat man crashed down.

I locked a foot around his ankle to steady myself, ripped hooks into his left kidney with my free hand. His bent back was a sweet target. Like socking a drum. I pounded him three times. He grunted, jerked upright. Something tore agonizingly at my locked arm. I dug into his kidney once more and then he whirled around and let me fly off at the wall.

It wasn't a clean toss. I hit spinning, felt skin burn off one shoulder. But I kept on my feet. My right forearm ached. A curved flap hung loose three inches above the wrist. It was lucky, though. His teeth had missed the artery . . . and rabies takes a long time to kill a man.

"Just for that," I mumbled, "we'll see how you like blinking glass out of your eyes."

And suddenly he broke and ran. Ran sobbing along the wall and up the steps onto the platform. At the top he swung around. I could hear

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Guard Against Rackets

Veterans' administration officials are urging discharged veterans to "stop, look and listen" before they engage in business. There are scores of rackets being worked against veterans who get out of the army or navy with cash in their pockets and with the privilege of borrowing money under the G.I. bill for purchase of a farm, a home or a business.

"We won't tell the veteran what to do," says N. D. Hathaway, director of contact service for VA, "but we will advise him to the best of our ability."

"The best advice we can give him is, 'Use your head. Don't rush into an investment. Seek good advice. Investigate until you are satisfied yourself. It is better to be sure than sorry.'"

In the meantime the veterans' contact service refers veterans to banks, or to the Better Business bureau in the city or town where he plans to invest his money. They give him the address of the legal aid bureau where legal assistance is free to veterans, if they cannot afford to hire a lawyer. Contact advice always urges veterans to convert their national service life insurance. The VA does not tell the veteran where to invest or in what to invest his money. There are too many variable factors, so their only counsel is extreme caution.

Questions and Answers

Q. My brother is 21 and has been in the merchant marine since December 4, 1944. When can he quit the merchant marines and not be drafted in the army?—Reader, Elkmont, Ala.

A. Your brother has been deferred from the draft by reason of his service in the merchant marine and he will be eligible to be drafted until he is 26 unless he (1) has been in the merchant marines for not less than 32 months on or after May 1, 1940; (2) at least 75 per cent of his time has been in active service; and (3) he has applied for and received from the War Shipping administration a certificate certifying he has completed his wartime service and is eligible to be relieved from further consideration as a draftee under the selective service system.

Q. I am the widow of a World War I veteran and haven't been receiving a dime of pension since his death, seven years ago. I've tried getting a pension at that time, but was told that we, in Wisconsin, did not get any. Is this true? If I am entitled to a pension what must I do to get it?—S. W., Ellsworth, Wis.

A. If you are the legal widow of a veteran of World War I, you are entitled to a pension wherever you live. Take your husband's record, his discharge papers and all available information you have and file a claim with the nearest office of the Veterans' administration. Your local Red Cross chapter could help you file this claim.

Q. I would like to know if a boy is eligible for draft deferment who is the main tractor and truck man on a hundred-acre farm?—J. N., Fairhope, Pa.

A. That would be a question to be determined by the local selective service board. If the board determined that the boy was essential in raising food for the community or for the armed services, he could be given an agricultural deferment, as being of greater use on the farm than in the armed services.

Q. My husband enlisted in the Seabees and our son was born two months after he went overseas. I did not receive any allotment on our son until he was six months old. My husband is home and has his discharge now. Is there any way I could get the allotment now?—Wife, Glenwood Springs, Colo.

A. The navy says the most common reason for failure to receive allotments is that the serviceman failed to apply for an allotment when he became eligible for one. Yes, allotments are retroactive and may be obtained after discharge. Suggest you write to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Allotment Division, Navy Department, Cleveland, Ohio.

Q. Is it true that a serviceman can take a trip around the world or across the ocean free and only pay half-fare for his family?—M. B., Superior, Wis.

A. The war department has no knowledge of any such plan.

Q. My brother was discharged from the army November 9, 1943. Will he be eligible for pensions or anything under the G.I. Bill of Rights?—Worried sister, Gunterville, Ala.

A. Yes, if he received an honorable discharge he is eligible for all benefits under the G.I. bill.

Off the Runway

Civil Air Patrol, Squadron 613-3
by 2nd Lt. Elyne Conel

Last Thursday evening at the Women Flyers of America Valentine party I "batted the breeze" with many Chicago and Aviation enthusiasts. In charge was a committee of four gals, who fly from Chicago-Hammond Airport: Jane Hayward, Mildred Nieburger, Marie Nelson and Dorothy Mack. They explained that this party was planned to get the Chicago Chapter going again after a wartime lapse of activity. Among many I talked to were Cy Knudtson of Rubinkam Airport, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson who fly their own PT 19 from C-H, Geo. A. Scheuer, Editor and Floyd M. Showalter both of the new Chicago Aviation News; and the principal speaker Col. Chas. E. Cox CAA, Assistant Regional Administrator for Personal Flying Development.

While talking with Col. Cox, I asked him what he thought of the highly controversial proposed State legislation and taxing of flyers. He answered that State representatives claim they will protect small airports' ground rights, keeping small airports from being pushed away from towns or from being nosed out by commercial flying.

If you are interested in keeping up or aviation, you are invited to the next Woman Flyer's of America meeting. It will be March 14, 7:45 pm., Room 210

116 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

New! Like all other big department stores, the Hub in Chicago unveiled their bid for Sky High sales, the all metal Swift. And right here at Prosperi Airport, you can see the new Stinson Voyager 150. I flew in and looked it over this Sunday. Ed Prosperi who flew it to Detroit and back, said he made good a ground speed of 103 mph. going and 153 coming back.

Candy our Student pilot, was grounded this week by wet fields and general flying conditions, but she stopped in at the Flight Office all "eager beaver" to "soak up" aviation talk and flying tips. Rebound: CAP member John "Smitty" Smith of Sqd. 6133 has had 400 hours, in the air, but flew his first solo this week at Prosperi airport in a Cub. During the war, Smitty logged his hours as a radio operator with the AAF. And during his 10th mission, his first big raid on Berlin his plane was shot down. Smitty bailed out at 400 feet, was captured and spent 14 months in Stalag Prison Camp No. 1. His weight dropped from 160 lbs. to 110 lbs. before liberation by Russians. It's good to see John's weight now and John himself, on the Upgrade!

Checkpoints: It's good news that new private pilots can take up passengers on the same day they pass their test, now that inspectors may issue Temporary Private Pilot certificates. Up to this time, a new pilot was grounded until his papers were returned from the CAA. By September, from Chicago, TWA will fly to 20 foreign countries. Chicago champ bowlers chartered a plane to fly them to tournaments in St. Louis. That's "striking" straight down the most beautiful, smooth alley in the world, the Skyway!

That's all for now.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Marti were pleasantly surprised last Sunday evening when the Wednesday Afternoon Card club tendered them a farwell dinner and party in the Hatch hall. A huge cake, with the inscription, "Good Luck Wishes" formed the table center piece. Cards were played following the dinner. Mrs. Marti was presented with a lovely friendship bracelet from the club. Mr. and Mrs. Marti are moving to Friendship, Wis., where they have purchased a farm. Dear Friends:

My mother wrote and told me you gave me five dollars and I want to thank you very much. It makes a fellow very happy to know he isn't forgotten when he leaves for the service. I am going through basic training for six weeks of schooling and my commanding officer told me we were all scheduled for overseas duty and I suppose it will be in the Pacific Theatre. They said we would get a fifteen day furlough before we went across but there are a few rumors that some of us won't get one.

Well folks, I want to thank you again for the present and hope to see you all soon.

Yours truly, Arthur Benson.

Thank you once again for the wonderful package and say hello to all.

See you soon,

Bob Hewson

VETERANS URGED TO RECORD DISCHARGES

Veterans now being released from service are urged to have their honorable discharge certificates recorded at their county seats.

County recorders are swamped with this recording job, and since there must be some delay in recording and furnishing certified copies, it is a good practice for veterans, who plan to file immediately for training under the G. I. Bill or other benefits, to arrange to have photostatic or other true copies made before discharge certificates are recorded, in order to avoid delay.

Service Officer, M. A. LaBerdia at 13104 S. Western Ave., Blue Island will certify such photostatic copies, as required by the Vets Adm. in most claims.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO.
EXTENDS POWER LINES

During 1945 the Public Service Co., of Northern Illinois built 264 miles of rural power lines in its territory. Nearly 200 miles of the total were built since summer when the war production board began lifting its restrictions against the use of critical material.

The new power lines made electricity available to 1100 farms in the area.

Britton I. Budd president of the company, said 27,365 farms and rural units, or 91.1 per cent of the area's total, had electricity available at the end of the year. He said additional rural power lines were being built as rapidly as manpower and materials would permit and that the utility's goal was to complete the job of rural electrification throughout its 6200 square-mile territory by the end of 1946.

There are about 30,000 farms and rural units in the company's territory, all but 2676 of which are now adjacent to power lines, he said.

Mr. Plug-tugger's Lament...

Did you ever see such a sight in your life as Phineas Plug-tugger? Cords fray and fuses blow when Phineas P. comes in the house.

Sooner or later all "plug-tuggers" are woebegone. If you have one in your home it would be well to warn him of the woe that will soon befall. Tell him how much longer the cords and fuses will last if he pulls the plug out by the plug, not the wire—and gently.

And speaking of plugs—do you have enough convenience outlets for all the wonderful new electric appliances you're planning for your home? If you are beset with an "Outlet Octopus"—unsightly "double-plugs on double-plugs"—it's a good idea to find out about adequate wiring.

Plan adequate wiring now... be ready to enjoy all the new electrical appliances coming your way soon. See us or your electrical contractor for wiring information.

MORE RURAL TELEPHONES ARE COMING DOWN THE LINE!

We're hard at work on a $3,000,000 program to expand and improve rural telephone service.

Obviously, a job of this size takes time. More than just telephones are needed. In many places, for example, new switchboards must be installed or present ones enlarged. Miles of new lines must be built. In other places new buildings are needed.

But we know how important the telephone is on the farm and we are getting ahead with this work fast. Some new telephones are being installed right now. Some central offices are getting new and improved equipment. It is our purpose to provide better telephone service for more people just as fast as we can.

Are you thinking of Striking? Dont. It Costs you too much

General Motors strikers lost $85,842,000 in the first eight weeks of the strike. Had the strike been settled at the end of eight weeks and the strikers had gone back to work with a 15 percent increase in hourly rates, it would take them Eight Years working every day, without layoff to make up the loss. But as a matter of fact, regardless of what they get in the way of wage increases, $85,842,000 can never be made up.

The average hourly wage of General Motors workers when they went out on strike was $1.12. The corporation offered a raise of 13.3 cents per hour before the strike was called, which the union officers turned down. These 180,000 workers could have been getting $1.25 cents per hour during those eight weeks. It is the consensus of union and business leaders, as well as the Gallup Poll, that the General Motors strike will result in a 15 percent increase.

If the strike is settled at 15 percent, it will amount to only 3 cents more per hour than was originally offered by the corporation. At 3 cents per hour it will take each General Motors worker, 16, 193 hours to make up the $485.80 lost at the end of eight weeks on the picket line. That means 405 weeks or slightly under eight years.

One must bear in mind that also during the eight weeks they were out on strike their living expenses continued. Rent, food and clothing expenses were not stopped by the strike. Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's came and went during the eight weeks, therefore, these 180,000 workers either spent from their savings and War Bonds or went into debt. It will take them a year or two to save up the money spent or pay off the debts incurred.

Incidentally, brothers Thomas, Rueher and Frankenstein continued to draw $150 to $200 per week plus expenses during the eight weeks. As officers of the UAW-CIO They can afford the strike, but their 180,000 members certainly could not.

Are You thinking of going out on strike? Don't—it will cost You too much.

The right to strike is an American as baseball, but it should be used only as a last desperate resort. Demand that your leaders get what you want by arbitration, compromise and decent American dealing around the table. When they have failed and want you to go out on strike, tell them you want to appoint a new committee of rank and file members of your union for one more try at the table with the boss.

It is time for the American workers to again stand on their own feet and quit following irresponsible radical and incompetent labor leaders like a flock of sheep—think for yourselves, get together with your fellow workers and go into the bosses' offices as you formerly did and talk things over with him as American equals.

Talk things over man to man, using good common sense and reasonableness and you will get more from management than your over-paid, selfish, un-American labor leaders will ever get for you, come on now, wake up and get back on the trail, throw out your irresponsible, communistic, labor leaders and put men into your union offices that have intelligence. You can't afford a strike, it costs You too much.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

HENRY: "I've heard that same thing several times lately... that alcoholics are really sick people. It was news to me. Do you agree with that statement, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Yes, it's true, Henry. It's no notion of mine... it's a statement made by scientists who have studied the subject."

HENRY: "What did they find out, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Well, as a result of their medical research, they found out that approximately 95% of the people who drink, drink sensibly. 5% do so unwisely, at times.

Included in that 5% is the small percentage known as alcoholics."

HENRY: "But why are they called sick people?"

OLD JUDGE: "Because it has been discovered that, in many cases, excessive drinking is a symptom of some physical or emotional maladjustment... not the cause of it."

HENRY: "Now I understand it, Judge. I am glad to hear of the modern approach to this problem and that so much is really being done to help these folks."

PMA TO SEEK HIGHER PRODUCER PRICES FOR MILK IN ALL CLASSES

Dairy men must have at least another 40c per hundred pounds for milk if production is to come anywhere near 1946 goals set by the government, Arthur H. Lauterbach, manager of Pure Milk Association, Chicago, told a meeting of the Illinois Holstein Breeders Assn. at St. Charles Feb. 19.

Lauterbach, just returned from a conference in Washington, reported that Pure Milk Association will join with other milk marketing co-operatives and with general farm organizations to get more nearly adequate milk prices for producers—first, through raising OPA ceilings, 2nd, by revision of the parity formula for dairy products. The 40c per cwt. needed to maintain milk production is over and above present prices plus government subsidies, he said.

As evidence of the immediate effect upon farmers of the government's national price-wage policy just announced, Lauterbach said that the first matter of business upon his return from Washington was a union request for a meeting to discuss wage increases for dairy employees.

"This is only the first of the increasing costs that will fall upon milk producers," he said. "Agriculture generally has not been insistent on high prices; farmers are conservative; they fear inflation. But returns must increase if farmers are to maintain production goals. There has been a 3 per cent decline in cow numbers; there is going to be 30 per cent less milk feed because of the wheat shortage; the farm help situation, more critical now than any time during the war, will worsen now that the go-ahead for higher wages has been given organized labor. Food did help win the war and it can help to write the peace. Farmers must be paid a fair price if we expect them to maintain production."

An increase of 40c per cwt. pounds in the producer price for milk will mean, said Lauterbach, an increase of at least 1c per quart in consumer prices, and equivalent increases for other dairy products.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 17, was:

"SOUL"

The Golden Text was:

"The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee; but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory" (Isa. 60: 19).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"How excellent is thy loving kindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings . . . For with thee is the fountain of life; in thy light shall we see light . . . For the Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly." (Ps. 36: 7, 9; Ps. 84: 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Human thought has adulterated the meaning of the word soul through the hypothesis that soul is both an evil and a good intelligence, resident in matter. The proper use of the word soul can always be gained by substituting the word God where the deity meaning is required. In other cases, use the word sense, and you will have the scientific signification. As used in Christian Science, Soul is properly the synonym of Spirit, or God; but out of Science, soul is identical with sense, with material sensation . . . Nothing but Spirit, Soul, can evolve Life, for Spirit is more than all else. Because Soul is immortal, it does not exist in mortality. Soul must be incorporeal to be Spirit, for Spirit is not finite. Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of Life as immortality brought to light." (pp. 482, 335).

Tinley Park News

Sunday evening sixty young people met in the social hall of the Methodist church and surprised Rev. J. Frank Anderson with a birthday party in honor of his seventieth birthday.

A number of interesting games were played after which everyone enjoyed ice cream and cake. The table was beautifully decorated with a birthday cake, tall tapers and a "70" lighted by small candles. Mrs. Ginther was in charge of refreshments. Rev. Anderson was presented with a postcard duplicator from the group. After the social hour a worship service was conducted in the sanctuary by Mrs. Lucille Hudspeth.

The WSCS of the Tinley Park Methodist church is planning to serve a supper in March. Watch for the date.

A lovely wedding reception and dance was given by Mr. Otto Ceithaml of Chicago in honor of his daughter and son Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson 17620 66th Ave. Saturday evening at Funks' Hall, corner 172nd and Oak Park Ave., Tinley Park.

A delightful Smorgasbord was served with a beautiful wedding cake as centerpiece.

Seventy five guests from Chicago and Tinley Park were invited. Pictures were taken and everyone enjoyed a grand time.

Last Wednesday evening, a turkey dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Murphy in honor of their wedding anniversary and also birthday anniversaries of their daughter LaVerne Hallinan and son Billie. Mrs. Gustie Hallinan and daughter Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hughes and children were present.

The old gang met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waites Feiling of Oak Lawn for a Valentine party, Sunday, Feb. 17. Everyone came early and the party started out with Hall, Hall the Gang's All Here.

The home was prettily decorated in keeping with the occasion and each of the ladies were presented with a very pretty red apron while the men were given red ties.

Mrs. Feiling conducted the game of Give and Take which went over in a big way.

Cards were played and the results were as follows: Mrs. Snyder and Walter Smith received first, Mr. and Mrs. Ficker 2nd while Mrs. Koehler and Fred Stuckey received booby. A delicious midnight supper was served.

At the right moment a blessing from Heaven appeared after which all the pros and cons were heard. The next meeting will be held at the Fred Stuckey home, March 19.

Mrs. Paul Jahrmarkt is ill in her home and confined to bed.

Mrs. Mattie Swanson of Winthrop, Iowa, is visiting at the home of her son Glen Swanson.

VFW Auxiliary 2791 News

The regular business meeting of the VFW Auxiliary to Post 2791 was held Feb. 13 at 8:00 pm. in the Veteran's Hall. President L. Brandriff presided.

At this meeting, the Auxiliary made plans to hold a luncheon and bazaar on March 7, beginning at 12:00 o'clock. A fortune teller will be present to read your tea leaves. Watch for posters giving complete menu and details. The chairman is Mary Maxwell with Lu Anfield the co-chairman. Any donations can be given to either of the ladies.

On Feb. 9 four members namely, L. Anfield, E. Cupp, L. Brandriff and K. Marsh attended a school of instruction meeting held at the LaSalle Hotel. The National President was present and honored at a banquet in the evening. L. Brandriff and K. Marsh attended this banquet.

A good idea stressed at the morning meeting was the plan to hold a hospital shower at each of the social meetings every month. Each person would bring something different for the patients at the hospitals such as, toothpaste, razor blades, combs, mirrors, toilet articles etc. and these in turn would be sent from your Auxiliary to the hospitals.

The next meeting will be Feb. 27. This is a social meeting and the hostesses are: Harriet Mancke, Susan Moelcker, and Margaret Miller. Please wear your uniforms if possible.

Crown Prince of Sweden Has Long Wait for Throne

No crown prince of modern times has waited for his throne as long as Sweden's Gustav Adolph, who is now 63 and whose father at 87 is still king after 38 years. The second longest period of waiting was that of Albert Edward, son of Queen Victoria, who was 59 when he succeeded her in 1901.

Kidneys Must Work Well—

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer aching backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

THIS seems to be as good a spot as any other to give you the various champions of 1946. Of course there may be a slight element of chance involved in these various nominations, but if you combine the past performance operations and the future chart you can't go far wrong. Also we reserve the right to make a few changes later on when some of the mists and fogs have lifted and there is more light ahead.

These selections belong to the snows of winter, not the flowers of April and May nor the red and gold tints of next autumn. Here is our prediction for big league baseball:

American league—Joe McCarthy's Yankees with the Red Sox and Tigers as leading challengers.

National league—The St. Louis Cardinals with the Cubs, Dodgers and Giants close up.

At the moment Joe McCarthy seems to be more worried about the Red Sox with Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr and Tex Hughson back than the Tigers with Wakefield and Greenberg hitting, plus the pitching of Newhouser, Trout, Trucks and Benton.

Outside of the Cardinals, the scramble to finish in the first four teams will be terrific, depending largely on the clubs that get the pick of Sam Breadon's $100,000 or maybe $150,000 worth of pitchers, infielders and outfielders. I don't mean collectively, but individually. Sam Breadon has already sold over $200,000 worth of talent and he has something like $700,000 in the way of talent left. Owner Sam Breadon will have a big influence on the next National league race.

Joe McCarthy, one of the top managers of all time, is too conservative to make any predictions. "Why I haven't even seen such men as Dickey, Gordon, DiMaggio, Rizzuto, Johnson and others in several years. How could I know what they have? All I know is what they were—not what they are. Remember that old song of George Cohan's—'It isn't what you used to be—it's what you are today.'"

Anyway, our first prediction stands—Yankees and Cardinals, which is no wild dash into the unknown. It is no long shot selection.

Army on Top in Football

As far as football goes, our top nomination is Red Blaik's Army team. This Army team has been the high spot of college football for the last two years. For 1946 it will still have most of its stars on hand, including Blanchard, Davis, Tucker, McWilliams, Coulter, Foldberg, Poole, Fuson and several new additions. Army's 1946 team may be even better than her 1944 and 1945 squads that outclassed the country.

I know Oklahoma A. and M., Indiana and Alabama believe they could have given Army an even scrap. Notre Dame and Pennsylvania felt the same way this last fall. Result against both: Army 109—Notre Dame and Pennsylvania 0. And don't forget Army was under wraps.

I'd pick Alabama in the south next to Army. Frank Thomas had a fine squad last fall and he will have a much better team next fall. He has more than a few outstanding stars coming back, plus the squad he already has.

Oklahoma A. and M. won't be far away with another big, fast, rugged and experienced bunch. Bo McMillin believes his Indiana team could give Army an even game, but I doubt Indiana could beat Alabama or Oklahoma A. and M.

Michigan, if the draft doesn't mow down Fritz Crisler's freshmen, can be one of the best. So can St. Mary's with new and bigger men coming in. Navy may rank close to Army—but not too close. Navy will certainly be the second best team in the east. Pennsylvania won't be far away, the top of the Ivy league, in a much closer run.

What about Notre Dame with Frank Leahy back? Good, but not great. The South and Midwest will both be strong. The East, outside of Army and Navy, won't be much different. The Far West still has a wide gap to close. The best pick along the Pacific will be St. Mary's, where Jimmy Phelan gave out one of the best coaching jobs I've ever seen and where Herman Wedemeyer will again be a vital factor. What about the two pro leagues? We'll turn that over to the Delphic Oracle.

What about boxing? The two tops in the country should be Joe Louis in the heavyweight division and Sugar Robinson among the welterweights. They should remain the two best ringmen of the year. Beau Jack will remain the best club fighter and the most popular entertainer. Graziano won't be far away. A Beau Jack-Graziano roundup can be one of the main features, where neither can box a lick. But where both like to throw punches, and let the clips fall where they may. They always put on a good, scrappy show.

Ammonium Nitrate or Nitrogen for Hay

Proper Application to Increase Tonnage Urged

Farmers can increase their hay production from three-quarters to one and one-half tons per acre by applying ammonium nitrate or other nitrogen fertilizers as a top dressing in April or early May, according to Prof. C. J. Chapman of the soils department of the University of Wisconsin.

Professor Chapman recommended the use of 150 to 200 pounds per acre of ammonium nitrate on timothy and other grassland meadows. In addition to increased yield, the fertilizer treatment improves the protein content and feeding value of the hay, he added. Professor Chapman declared that ammonium nitrate is excellent as a treatment for grassland pastures, since it greatly increases milk production and provides a week's earlier grazing.

The value of ammonium nitrate and other nitrogenous fertilizers as a top dressing for pastures and hay fields was demonstrated.

This Raleigh county, West Virginia, farm has proven value of fertilizers to the hay fields.

Most of the treatments were at the rate of 200 pounds per acre, with a few at 150 pounds and one at 400 pounds. The average profit for all the demonstrations, over and above the cost of the fertilizer was $16.82 per acre.

Professor Chapman pointed out, however, that the continuous use, year after year of ammonium nitrate or any other straight nitrogen fertilizer will eventually result in the depletion of the available reserves of lime, phosphate and potash in the soil.

"It is therefore recommended," he said, "that the mineral reserves of the soil be maintained through the application of lime, phosphate and potash fertilizers, together with the systematic use of stable manure."

Improved Machinery Harvester Control

Combine can be made into a one-man machine by the installation of an electric harvester control placed on the market by the Gleaner Harvester corporation, Independence, Mo.

The moving part of the lift consists of a lead screw which is turned by the electric motor. As this screw turns in either direction, a large nut follows it up or down, thus raising or lowering the harvester unit.

Fluorescent Hotbeds

A hotbed in which plants may be started in the basement, barn or any other building has been developed by Dr. V. T. Stoutemeyer and Albert W. Clive of the USDA.

The diagram (a) is the fixture and reflector holding two 40-watt fluorescent lamps, and (b) the trays or flats in which seedling plants are grown.

'1080' Super Rough-On Rats Becomes Available

The DDT of the rat world, the new chemical rat-killer, has recently been released from wartime duty. This product, "1080" was developed by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service and the Wildlife Research laboratory. The poison is sodium fluoroacetate. It has been proven to be the most deadly stuff ever tried out on rats. But it will also kill any other animal. It is now available for release.

Buzzards

By FAYE MCGOVERN

THE late summer sun beat down on old Yuan's narrow bent shoulders as he sat in his dooryard. It turned the rice in his paddy fields into fat yellow kernels, but Old Yuan found no pleasure in it. His only son, impatient at working in the fields when there was fighting to be done, had shouted defiance at him and gone off with the others to join Chiang Kai-shek's army, leaving him to harvest it alone—an impossible task for one old man.

A burly figure appeared, running along the raised path between the rice paddies, continually looking over its shoulder as if in fear for its life. Seeing Old Yuan, it loped up the incline and threw itself at the old man's feet. "Hide me, good father, I implore you!"

Old Yuan's grip on the hoe relaxed as he recognized the overgrown lad as the simple-minded but cheerful worker who had been conscripted from a neighboring farm. "From whom would you hide, Lun-ko?" he demanded severely.

"The men who took me away. They made us shoot firesticks that kill. I not like to kill. I run away. Hide me from them, I pray you!"

Old Yuan's wrinkled face tightened. Was it possible the conscription officers had not seen that this one was different from the others? Surely the gods had taken pity on an old man's plight and sent this lad that his rice crop might be saved. The sound of an approaching motorcar cut short his conjectures.

"I look for a farm lad called Lun-ko."

"Quick, into the straw crib!" he commanded.

Scarcely had he latched the rickety door when a touring car containing two uniformed men drew up on the dusty road. One of them alighted and came swiftly along the path. "I look for a farm lad called Lun-ko," he announced, his keen black eyes sweeping the surroundings. "Come he here?"

Old Yuan trembled within himself. Surely this soldier in shiny boots was not one to be easily outwitted. But, summoning his courage and praying that the gods who had already been so charitable would continue to approve, he gestured toward a large bird that soared lazily over his fields. "As you can see, there are only myself and the buzzard."

The officer, instead, brought his gaze to rest on the straw crib. "Dreamed you such an ugly creature could have such grace?" Old Yuan cried hastily. Then, pointing excitedly, "See, it lights!"

The officer turned and looked at the ungainly crimson-wattled bird settling itself awkwardly on a stump.

"He appears quite fierce but he is not," Old Yuan pursued eagerly. "He helps me by catching mice and grasshoppers that destroy my grain." Then timidly he asked, "Have you not known like men with strong bodies but no heart for fighting?"

A sneeze from the straw crib caused Old Yuan's heart to contract and brought the officer's attention around sharply. But instead of striding toward it and demanding officiously to look inside, he merely stared at it intently. Then he again turned toward the rice fields that glinted pale gold in the sun, stirred by a gentle breeze. "Just you and the buzzard, eh?" he said finally.

Old Yuan's head sank to his chest. Now he would be manacled and taken to jail for harboring a fugitive. His fields would wither and rot, and many would go hungry.

"In America where I once studied," the officer said, "I read of a general who stated, 'An army marches on its stomach.' He added, nodding thoughtfully, 'He was a great man.'"

Old Yuan could only blink at him uncomprehendingly.

The man took a deep breath of the warm fragrant air, squinted up at the cloudless sky, then looked at Old Yuan and smiled broadly. "I congratulate you on your bountiful crop. I'm sure you can harvest it—with the help of your buzzard." Then with a brisk salute he marched off toward the waiting car.

Tears of relief trickled slowly down Old Yuan's wrinkled cheeks and his fatigue fell away as if it had never been. Aye, with such understanding men in the world there would be an end to war some day.

New York Newsboy:

The Germans knew that we were working on the atomic bomb. . . . They even planted a spy at Oak Ridge. . . . He was captured, although this has not been announced. . . . The original plan was to drop 500 atomic bombs over Japan. . . . When the scientists learned of it—they protested to the army. . . . The army replied: "You go back and take care of your test tubes; we'll run the war!"

Uranium is now obsolete in the production of atomic bombs. . . . Lead, it appears, works just as well. . . . The U. S. knows that the Russians have the process, and we also know they are employing lead in the manufacture.

James Lee in his col'm, "The Main Stem," reports: "A daughter was born recently to Gloria De Haven, and that must have made Walter Winchell feel a little older. In the first column he ever wrote, he announced the birth of Gloria herself."

Not older, James, just balder!

Chester Bowles, OP Administrator, has promised Mr. Truman that he will stay in that job until June 30th. He will resign to run for Gov. of Conn.

The President's next Page One picnic with Congress will be a panic. He will oppose any tax relief for corporations this year. Then he will amend that to deny any tax concessions to corporations that defy the Gov't. In other words, they won't be permitted to strike themselves into the lower tax brackets for rebate reasons. . . . The President is mulling three methods of fighting the reluctant steel industry (which he claims is trying to ruin the U. S. so that a handful can rule) . . . Truman is asking the Justice Dept. to see if they can be prosecuted via the anti-trust act, wage hour law (or for violation of income tax statutes) because they won't show their books.

Routine negligence is given as the alleged reason for the meat packing strike, which could have been averted. . . . Both sides wanted Labor Sec'y Schwelienbach to intervene. But his telegram to Chicago for a Washington confab arrived an hour too late. . . . Schwelienbach knew the score for a week before the strike date was set. . . . (O, My Aching Schwelienbach!)

Pres. Truman's next report to the people will make his last one sound like a peep. He will name names (tying up Southern Demmys with Repubs) despite warnings from Bob Hannegan that it's "bad politics." . . . Labor Sec. Schwelienbach now advertises himself to friends as "the unhappiest man in Washington." . . . Jan Valtin (author of "Out of the Night") is one of three men denied citizenship while serving in the U. S. army. He blames "reds" in the State Dept. . . . Newsmen are going nuts over the name "Charles E. Wilson." One is boss of Gen. Electric—the other is boss at Gen. Motors. . . . Gen. Confusion, etc.

The Funnies: Comdr. Fred Storm, who "covered" FDR at Albany and in Washington (for United Press), was aboard the USS Massachusetts when the French Jean Barte opened fire. The first salvo bracketed the Massachusetts. That is, those big shells threw geysers up to port and starboard, clearly indicating to all navy men that the next salvo would be coming aboard the American ship. . . . Vice Admiral Thomas Carley Giffen turned to Comdr. Storm and said: "Freddie, you like the ladies, don't you?" . . . Big Fred, no little worried about being killed, stammered: "Yezzir!"

"Just remember," said the Skipper, "when we get to the Pearly Gates I am pulling rank on you. I get first date with Helen of Troy!"

Sounds in the Night: At Theodore's: "A bachelor is a guy who never makes the same mistake once." . . . In Havana-Madrid: "If it wasn't for her Adam's apple she wouldn't have any figger at all." . . . In the Park Central Lounge: "He hangs onto his dough like it was still worth something." . . . At the Singapore: "It's one of those exclusive spots where nobody's allowed in!" . . . In the Cub Room: "You know, a lotta people think he's a heel." . . . "You mean a lot of you heels think he's a heel." . . . In the Stork: "While they vilified his friend—he sat there quiet as a rat." . . . Ann Todd in the flicker, "The 7th Veil."

Quotation Marksmanship: Wilson Mizner: A man bigger than you are is never a liar. He is mistaken. . . . Harry Cool: She gave a very performance. . . . Elise Jerard: She sat on her emotions like a suit case that was too full but had to be kept shut. . . . Vicki Baum: A good cry is like sending your heart to the laundry and getting it back clean. . . . Anon: Will power is the ability to eat one salted peanut. . . . Marion Hutton: That country merely wants its Indiandependence. . . .

Eating Styles
Styles in food change like styles in clothes. Americans formerly preferred heavily salted, highly colored butter to the lightly salted, uncolored butter which is now popular. Bacon preferences show that the British want very lean bacon, while the Russians like all the fat they can get and the United States demands lean sliced bacon with a very little fat.

Fire Victims
Victims of fire included more of the active working men and women—persons between the ages of 25 and 44 years old—than any other group. The next largest group of victims were old people—persons over 65 years of age. And the third largest group was made up of small children, under school age.

Alien Residence
Almost one-third of all the aliens in the United States live in New York state according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. Second in size of alien population is California; third is Pennsylvania, according to figures of March 1, 1914, which showed a total of 3,600,000 aliens in the United States.

Turn-About
Before discarding a wool skirt that has begun to look worn and shabby, consider the possibility of giving it a new lease on life by turning it inside out. Often the faded color, spots and wear that make a skirt look worn are only surface deep and the other side may look fresh and new.

Ready for Use
Blended with water, dried eggs become ready for use in muffins, cookies, cakes, salad dressings, scrambled eggs or omelet. Homemakers are urged to give them a fair trial. They're light, compact and easy to carry, and they keep fresh a long time when cold and covered.

Keep Out of Reach
Keep all dusts and sprays in tightly closed containers such as jars or tins, and keep them away from food and out of reach of children and animals. A high shelf in a closet or a locked drawer or cupboard may be the safest storage place.

Lantern Hook
The safest place to put a lantern in farm buildings is on a hook put up especially for that purpose. Make sure that it is a stout hook, securely fastened, and away from cobwebs, hay, straw or other flammable material.

Jerusalem Cherry
Jerusalem cherry, popular for Christmas ornamentation, thrives best in a cool room free from drafts. It requires a temperature of about 60 degrees for best results. It is a native of the old world, but has been naturalized in Florida.

Primrose Requires Light
Primroses require ample light, even moisture and fairly high humidity. Another holiday season ornamental, the Christmas Begonia, likes warm, humid atmosphere, daily watering, and plenty of sunlight.

Checks Erosion
Land that is in close-growing crops more than half the time and planted in row crops only about one year out of every three loses much less topsoil by erosion than continuously cultivated land.

Fire Fatalities
One out of every three persons who lost their lives in one year as the result of fires in the United States was a farm man, woman or child.

Curb Egg-Eating Hens
Providing ample calcium and vitamin D usually solves the egg-eating problem in poultry flocks. Egg-eating often starts when egg shells are thin and easily broken.

Rare Drug
Curare from balsam sap is sometimes made into a rare drug used to check excessive bleeding. It is fatal when absorbed internally.

Punishable by Death
Two hundred different crimes were punishable by death under English law at the time that America was colonized.

Ever Try Making Cough Syrup In Your Kitchen?

Quick Relief. No Cooking. Easy!

If you've never tried mixing your own cough medicine, you've missed a lot. It's no trouble--needs no cooking--and gives you about four times as much cough syrup for your money. You'll say it beats anything you ever tried for coughs due to colds. And here's how it's done:

Make a plain syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until it is dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugarsyrup.

Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from your druggist. Put this into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This makes a pint--a family supply. Tastes fine and never spoils. Children love it. And as for results, you've never seen anything better. It goes right to work on the cough, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritation, and helping clear the air passages. You will like it for its results, and not merely for the money it saves.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way. Adv.

WAR IS NEVER OVER FOR THE RED CROSS

"The war is over,
Battles are won;
But Red Cross work
Is never done."

This is the thought that the Red Cross Fund raising chairman Mrs. Ebenhack, hopes we will keep in mind as we begin the Red Cross Fund Drive for 1946.

At this time a year ago no one dared dream that the war would be over by 1946. But even though this has actually happened it does not mean that the war is over for the Red Cross.

Rather, it means, that a tremendous job lies ahead for Red Cross. It must still serve the millions of men in uniform at home and abroad.

Do you know that there is vital need for recreation in Japan? The Club in Yokohama has served as many as 80,000 cups of coffee in one day. Between 10,000 and 15,000 disappointed and homesick GIs troop to the Bankers Club in Tokyo in one day. They drink coffee and eat doughnuts from dawn to dusk.

Red Cross must still serve the countless thousands in hospitals at home and abroad.

Do you know that the Chicago Chapter, of which Tinley Park is a part, covers the largest area and largest population of any chapter in America? In this area are some of the largest veterans' and Military hospitals. These hospitals are filled and will be for many years with wounded and sick men and women who fought the war for us.

Red Cross must still serve the returned veterans faced with many problems requiring immediate attention.

Do you know that more than 40,000 cases are now being handled each month in the Home Service Department? Chicago alone handles 1000 a month.

Do you know that more than 100,000 Czechoslovak school children will receive one half pint of milk a day for three months along with 7,000,000 vitamin tablets, shoes and Chapter made clothing as a part of the 2 million dollar American Red Cross emergency relief program?

These are a few of the post-war obligations which must be met, the fulfillment of which depends upon the success of our fund raising campaign.

Tinley's quota is $900. This amount is not too large for us to raise. Our community life has not changed since a year ago, only a few of our people have felt the effects of the strikes, our merchants are all busy, salaries have not been reduced and we cannot spend our money even for the things we really need.

Without a doubt the people of this community are ready and willing to give the sum we ask for. Beginning March 1st, our volunteers will make a house to house call to make certain that these generous people have a chance to give.

Give to the Red Cross so that it can carry on its work.

TO OPEN MOKENA RED CROSS DRIVE WITH MOVIES

To open the annual American Red Cross for funds in Mokena, movies will be shown at Hatch Hall Thursday evening, February 28 at 8:00 pm. These movies will present the work and achievements of the ARC both at home and in the field.

In addition to this, awards will be presented to members of the local branch of the American Red Cross.

On March 1st, the drive for funds will begin. The quota for Mokena and surrounding territory has been set at $550.00. The spirit of cooperation and willingness that marked the work of the people of Mokena is needed once more to make this venture a success. The war is over but the work and responsibilities of the ARC still goes on.

Anyone desiring to volunteer their services for this drive please dial 2771 Mokena.

Navy Secret Radar Components Released for Railway Use

THE first peacetime application of radar components to a railway communication system, now possible through the lifting of Navy Security Restrictions, will be made on the Rock Island Lines, according to a program announced by J. D. Farrington, chief executive officer of the road.

The Rock Island's new system will embody important developments designed by the Sperry Gyroscope Company for military and Naval radar operations only recently released by the Government for this purpose. The hitherto "highly secret" Klystron tube, which is used in the Rock Island system, was developed by the Sperry scientists especially for aircraft and ship radar installations.

This revolutionary new tube has been of great importance in making available for radio and other purposes a portion of the radio spectrum which is 20,000 times as wide as a home radio broadcast band. The ultra-high frequency waves thus generated are so short that they approach heat and light waves in the electro-magnetic spectrum.

Because of the very high frequency waves (2660 megacycles) to be used in the Rock Island's new system, trains and other places of transmission and reception will be equipped with a new type of antenna developed by the Sperry Gyroscope Company which allows any degree of directional control. In contrast to the conventional antenna an assembly of platters or discs is mounted on a short hollow tubing only a few inches tall. Developed for Naval wartime use, this is a particularly important factor in railroad operation too, since antenna clearance is limited on trains passing through bridges, tunnels, etc.

In commenting upon the radio communication installation, Mr. Farrington said: "We on the Rock Island Lines have long recognized the importance of radio communication in the efficient operation of a modern railroad. Our tests and experiments during the past year-and-a-half have shown many advantages in the use of this type of communication. Now that commercial use of war-proven, heretofore highly secret radio-radar apparatus is being permitted by the armed forces, we are pleased to have the cooperation of the Sperry Gyroscope Company in inaugurating this system as part of a permanent and far-reaching program."

The first application of radar components to a railroad communication system, made possible through lifting of Navy security regulations, will be made on the Rock Island Lines. In the above photo, J. D. Farrington, (center) chief executive officer of the Rock Island, inspects the hitherto secret antenna, held by Dr. H. H. Willis, vice president of the Sperry Gyroscope Co., which developed the antenna for the Navy. This antenna, which is only a few inches high, can radiate waves equal in power to those radiated from an average high-powered radio station's conventional antenna. This particular type of radar antenna will be standard equipment on all Rock Island trains. The antenna held by Ernest A. Dahl, Rock Island electronic engineer (left) will be used at the railroad's "wayside stations." Other radar components will be used in the Rock Island's Sperry-engineered communications system.

Supervising the work for the Rock Island will be C. O. Ellis, superintendent of communications, E. A. Dahl, electronic engineer, and A. E.
